

Jennifer (JD) Simmons

August 19, 1977 - April 19, 2019

Sore Today/Strong Tomorrow

JD wrote on April 12, 2019: "Unfortunately I'm dealing with some health issues. I know God is going to work this out for His good and there is going to be an amazing testimony that will bring Him so much glory and we will just stand in awe of how good He is!"

She spent time in the Air Force and passed at Tampa, FL VA hospital. All her family was there. She had breast cancer the prior year and had been told she was cancer free in June. She spent her time continuing to improve her health and build her personal fitness business. She made a friend at the clinic she went to and they found they had a lot in common. They even ate the same! This is a big deal when you have to be careful of every bite. John's job had him traveling so Jennifer would go with him and they would check out the parks, hiking and frisbee golf. They became engaged around December and were planning a wedding date of May 5th. In early April she realized the cancer had returned. It was a very fast growing form. She passed on Good Friday and we spread her ashes on the day they were to be married. She is now on a beautiful mountain in North Carolina. The trip up the mountain was videotaped thanks to the kids having a drone! If you want to watch it go to utube. We will have it available at the next reunion along with some great memories, and smiles.

JD was preceded in death by her grandmother LouGene Mae Dexter Fowler, grandfather Wayne Allen Fowler and aunt Gwen Fowler. Surviving her are mother Wanda Rose Fowler (Pete), father Paul Simmons, sister and brother-in-law Jauna & Casey, aunt Diann & Terry, uncle Wayne (BO) & Cindy, and uncle Merle & Jeri, and many cousins, nieces and nephews.
